

512 DISCLOSURE

The Division of Criminal Justice shall comply with all disclosure obligations imposed by constitutional principles, statutes, court rules and as otherwise ordered by the court. This obligation includes, but is not limited to, prior statements of all state's witnesses, criminal records of all state's witnesses, expert's reports, and any information that is favorable to an accused when the evidence is material either to guilt or punishment, including any incentives, inducements, rewards or other benefits that have been offered to a state's witness in return for the witness' cooperation with law enforcement.
