Dear Attorney McGuire:

We are in receipt of your letter of July 29, 2014 to Eric Waldron, Director of Operations for the Connecticut Airport Authority ("CAA"), in which you assert that Bradley International Airport ("Bradley") has prohibited photography from certain locations open to the public, including the airport terminal and on Perimeter Road.

Please be advised that the CAA does not prohibit photography in any area open to the public at Bradley, including within the terminal. The Transportation Security Administration ("TSA") does not prohibit photographing, videotaping or filming at security checkpoints, as long as the screening process is not interfered with or slowed down, although they do ask that the security monitors not be filmed or photographed. Please go to <http://www.tsa.gov/pressroom-channel/photographyfilming> to access the TSA website regarding photography.

With respect to Perimeter Road, photography is not prohibited. However, for security and traffic flow reasons, parking is prohibited on Perimeter Road for any reason, including photography. In addition, many areas of Bradley surrounding the airfield are designated no trespassing areas which are not open to the public for any reason, including photography. The Connecticut State Police do enforce the parking and trespassing restrictions.

If you have any particular issues or questions regarding this issue, I would be happy to arrange a time to discuss them with you. I can be reached by phone at 860-292-2026 or by e-mail at ppernerewski@ctairports.org.

Very truly yours,

Paul K. Pernerewski, Jr.
