

KNOW YOUR RIGHTS: REGISTERING TO VOTE ON ELECTION DAY IN CONNECTICUT

Connecticut allows people to register to vote on Election Day. To do so, would-be voters need to:

VISIT A DESIGNATED ELECTION DAY REGISTRATION SITE, which may not be the same as your local polling place. To find your designated Election Day Registration site, check the Secretary of the State's website or with your local registrar of voters.

SHOW IDENTIFICATION THAT INCLUDES YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS.

Examples of identification that you can use for this purpose include: a Connecticut driver's license, a utility bill, or a checkbook.

ARRIVE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

As long as you are in the registration line by 8 pm, you have the right to register and to cast your ballot on election night. In the past, some municipalities have cut off registration at 8 pm, but a law passed in 2020 affirms that if you are in line by 8 pm, you have the right to register and cast your vote that day.
